

Barnicle and Husk™

PLYMOUTH 400™
1620-2020

PROUD SIGNATURE SPONSOR

HELP HUSK FIND HIS WAY BACK TO THE VILLAGE

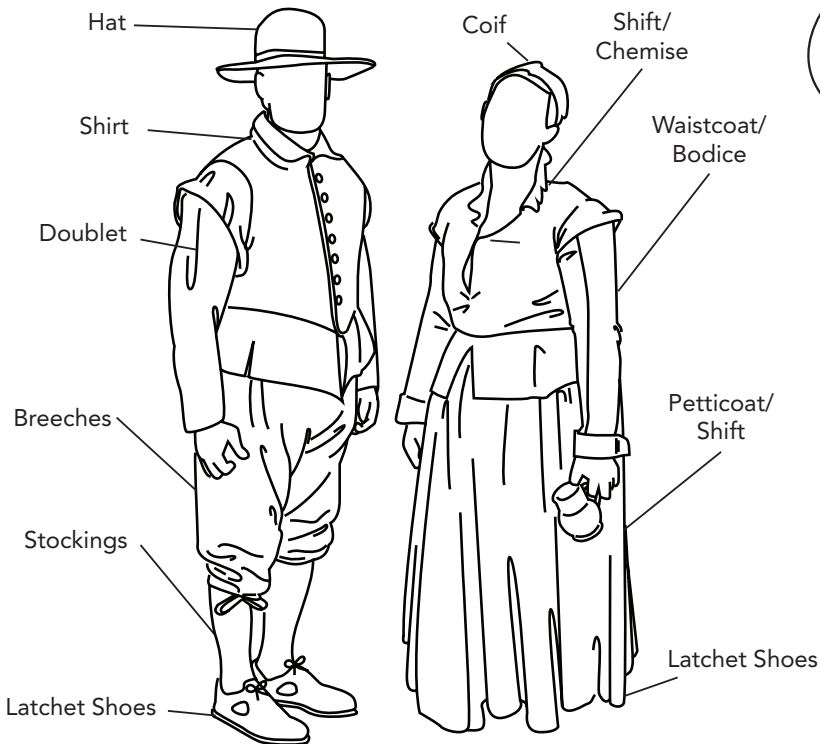

The Howland House

Opening on June 19th, 2020, hours 10:00 am - 4:30 pm

- The Howland House was built in 1667 by a house carpenter named Jacob Mitchell.
- It was owned by the 8th son of John and Elizabeth, Jabez Howland from 1669-1680.
- Jabez Howland was a blacksmith in the Plimoth colony.
- They had 5 children while living in the house in Plimoth.
- The house was privately owned until the Pilgrim John Howland Society bought the house in 1912 for $2,000.
- The house represents three distinct time periods 1667, 1710, and 1750

Can you color the Howland House?

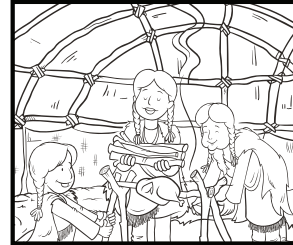

HOW TO DRESS LIKE A PILGRIM:

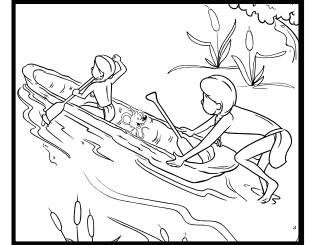

DIDN'T THE PILGRIMS ONLY WEAR BLACK?

NO! Pilgrims wore many colors, like violet, blue, green, yellow, brown, gray and red-orange. Black fabric was actually too expensive for the Pilgrims, so they would not have worn it! Can you color these outfits to be historically accurate?

LEARN WAMPAANOAG VOCABULARY!

Wetu - House, made from either tree bark or grass mats covering a wood frame

Mishoon - Canoe made from a hollowed out, burned log

Patuxet - One of the 69 villages that made up the Wampanoag nation

Quahog - A thick-shelled, edible clam

Kietan - The name of the Creator in Wampanoag tradition

Sachem - The chief of a village

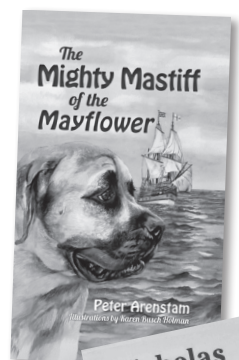

Facts about John Howland and Elizabeth Tilley:

- John Howland fell off the Mayflower in a storm during the crossing of 1620 and had to be rescued.
- Elizabeth Tilley was 13 years old when she made the crossing on the Mayflower.
- Elizabeth Tilley lived with her family in Leyden, Netherlands, before she came to America.
- Elizabeth Tilley is about the same age as the famous artist, Rembrandt who was also from Leyden.
- Elizabeth Tilley came to America with her parents and her aunt and uncle, all whom died in the first winter.
- John Howland married Elizabeth Tilley in 1623. Together they had 10 children and 88 grandchildren!

A NEW PARTNERSHIP:

Author Peter Arenstam and Mary Shields, creator of the characters Barnicle and Husk and author of Barnicle and Husk: The Adventure Begins! are teaming up with a new historical chapter book series that will provide an accurate platform to educate young readers about America's founding story.

Available here today!

BARNICLE AND HUSK

BOOK #1 - TWO VERSIONS!
Chapter Book and Pre-reader

ON SALE AT SELECT LOCAL RETAILERS AND ONLINE AT:

BarnicleandHusk.com, Amazon.com,
BarnesandNoble.com

